

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 23, 2007

2007 Worldwide Food Expo

October 24 – 27, 2007

Chicago, Illinois.

CHICAGO, IL. July 10, 2007. The global food and beverage industries will converge in Chicago on October 24 for the 2007 World Wide Food Expo (WFE) and the US Embassy in Cameroon will lead a delegation of Cameroon executives and entrepreneurs to the event. The Worldwide Food Expo is the year's largest food and beverage processing and packaging event in the world, covering more than a million square feet with exhibits featuring 1,000 of the world's leading suppliers. More than 25,000 attendees from 100 countries will visit the show to learn about new technologies, trends and ideas. Contact Chicago Midwest or the US Embassy in Yaounde if you want to attend this event.

The WFE is actually two collocated events taking place at the same time:

- AMI International Meat, Poultry & Seafood Industry Convention and Exposition
- Food, Dairy & Beverage Exposition

The AMI International Meat, Poultry and Seafood Convention and Exposition is the largest technology show for the meat, poultry and seafood industries. The food, Dairy & Beverage Exposition covers all type of food processing gear and information related to food, Dairy and Beverage management and production.

For those planning to take advantage of AGOA the WFE is a must. Visitors will meet potential buyers of African foods, view processing and packaging equipment, and meet US agency representatives who can answer questions relating to food imports.

Contact Information.

US Embassy: Jean Paul Yana - Yanajp@state.gov

Christopher Ekom - Ekomca@state.gov

Chicago Midwest: Eric Tande - eric@chicagomidwest.com